

Reef Teach Train the Trainer Program

Your staff or member can become Reef Teachers too!

According to the Department of Business Economic Development and Tourism (DBEDT) State of Hawaii over 1.6 million visitors came to the Island of Hawai'i 2006. The majority of our visitors want to experience the beauty of our shore and ocean resources. Our Train the Trainer program provides commercial visitor industries and organizations the opportunity to learn about our reef system and reef etiquette. Through this educational process, the staff, once trained, will be able to educate the visitors that patronize their businesses.

ReefTeach Train the Trainer Program is an effort to educate staff and members of businesses and organizations on the island of Hawai'i on how to avoid damaging corals, how to take care of our turtles and our reef animals. The objective of our program is to provide consistent and accurate information when educating the visitors about our coral reef system.

Reef Teach was created in 2000 by Sea Grant Agent Sara Peck of the University of Hawai'i .

ReefTeaching is effective and fun!

- Your staff will be trained by a U.H. Sea Grant Extension Agent and/or an experienced Marine Science instructor
- Our Reef Teach Reference Book will be shared with you and can be used as a tool to share with the visitors.
- We will share a 1.5 hour powerpoint presentation on Reef Education with your staff.
- Your business will receive a Certificate of Completion

For more information call or email:
Cindi Punihaole cpunihaole@kohalacenter.org
Stephen Coffee scoffee@kohalacenter.org
Cell phone 808 895-1010; 640-0079 www.kohalacenter.org