

*Celebrate Earth Day 2019
at Kahalu'u Bay*

Hoā'āina Stewardship Day

Join us in caring for the 'āina while deepening your cultural and environmental knowledge of one of West Hawai'i's most cherished places.

Saturday, April 20

8:30–11:30 a.m.

Kahalu'u Bay and Beach Park

78-6710 Ali'i Drive, Kailua-Kona

Opening Circle

Meet fellow community members and visitors, learn an oli (chant), and set intentions for the morning.

Park and Bay Tour

Learn about Kahalu'u's rich history and how you can help protect the bay's vibrant, delicate ecosystem.

Beach Cleanup

Bring the 'ohana and help us pick up litter and microplastics to keep the bay and beach clean.

Sunscreen Drop and Swap

Protect Hawai'i's coral reefs and marine life! Drop off your chemical-based sunscreens and we'll dispose of them for you properly. Get a free sample* of reef-friendly, mineral-based sunscreen to try out or take home.

Meet at the Kahalu'u Bay Education Center tents in Kahalu'u Beach Park by 8:30 a.m.

We will provide gloves, buckets, bags, and tools for picking up litter.

Please bring your preferred beverage in a reusable container, reef-friendly sun protection (hats, rashguards, mineral-based sunscreens, etc.), and beach and snorkel gear to enjoy the bay!

Organized by:

With support from:

Support provided by Hawai'i Tourism through the Aloha 'Āina Program.

While supplies last.*

The Kohala Center is an equal opportunity provider, employer, and lender.